FRIDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1880. The general tope of business has not improved during the week past, the bad weather which prevailed and which occasioned the delay in the arrival of vessels from the Coast, tending to contribute to a continuation of the stagnation in trade. The imports for the week, by the brig John D. Spueckels, the lumber schooner Eva, and the P. M. S. S. City of New York, amount to $49,000, not including $1,200 in treasure, brought by the J. D. Speeckels, and $7,500 by the City of New York. The exports for the week, by the bark J. A. Falkinburg, German steamer Cassandra, and P. M. S. S. City of New York, amount to

By the kindness of His Excellency, the Minister of Finance, we are enabled to present to our readers, with this issue, the Custom House statistics of Exports for the last quarter of the year, as compared with the 4th quarter of 1879, and for the twelve months of 1880, as compared with the twelve months of 1879. The promptness shown In presenting these official returns reflects credit on the ability with which Collector Allen manages the branch of the civil service under his control. We cannot do further than present the Report in this issue, lack of space compelling us to withhold comment on the details :

SAN FRANCISCO, DEC'R 20TH, 1880. Since our advices per "Australia," we have had copious rains throughout the State, and the prospect for a prosperous season the coming year, at this time was Scoxu.-Our market has been bare of stock for some time, and it has been impossible to supply the demand for refined or raw. The arrival of a cargo from Manila, and late receipts from the Islands, are gladly welcomed. Beet sugars have advanced in Europe, and Cane sugars in Cubs, and the Manila market will doubtless respond to the improvement before long, high freights from that point necessarily keeping prices down. The outlook for the coming year is more favorable for the producing in-terest. Fuller information will be obtainable by the be-ginning of the New Year, when our annual circular will forwarded. Cuba centrifugals No. 16, 98 per cent, are ing for $8.62 to $8.75 in New York ; Mantla basis being $5.40 : same would be worth here $7:45. REER.—Our supplies of late have been heavy, and prices have declined to 5 kc. At this price there will be two outlets to reduce our present accumulation of stock, viz; Overland Sales and Chinese consumption. There is no prospect of any immediate advance, and it would have gone lower, had not the low price attracted the attention of a party to it as an investment, and he has bought about 5,000 bags. With the large product at the Islands, over the consumption of the white population of this coast, it must be apparent to producers that prices must be low enough, when this market is overstocked, to sc-Monasses.—Recent receipts have been readily taken at $255c, according to quality. Some very inferior and

wery thin, had to be sold at a low figure.

While On.—All the cargoes of the whalers have been disposed of here, and shipments abroad. A part of the "Siberia's" (Prussian Bottom) catch has been shipped to Sydney, for which market there will probably be a further demand for foreign caught oil in bond. Sales have been made as low as 35c for free oil. Tallow.—Continues in good demand at 5% @ 5% for Rendered, and 7% @ 7%c for Refined. Woot.—We quote best San Joaquin and Southern at 13 69 17c. Eastern markets quiet. FLOUR .- " G. G." B, Extra, $5.00.

Faktours.-Market quiet in consequence of a dull English wheat market, and large arrivals here. Without transactions to note, we quote 67s.6d. to Cork, U. K., Exchange -60 days on London 49% @ 49%d. New York sight & per cent. premium. WILLIAMS, DIMOND & Co.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 1, 1881.

HIS MAJESTY returned this morning per C. R. Bishop from Kausi. We are happy to say that the King returns in excellent health, and that he received a cordial and loyal welcome from the people of Kauai, both native and foreign, of which we will give fuller particulars in our next issue.

IT is stated that the people of France, its peasantry, as well as its bourgeoisle, are subscribing to the de Lesseps inter-oceanic canal, with the same alacrity and liberality with which they met the German war indemnity. This promises well for our

THE state of Ireland is such that it requires the presence of an army in order to erve a civil warrant. The Imperial Government must be so much pre-occupied with this great domestic question, that little Hawaii could hardly hope for any notice now, even if her wish were presented by her Sovereign in person.

THE NEW YEAR begins in our isles with many hopes of a large crop, of new railroads and steamships, and of a good deal of general prosperity; and we hope that the clouds of evil, which threaten disease to our community will blow away, and give us a year of health and increase. We call upon all to-day, with our cordial greeting, and wish to King Kalakaua and all his People a Happy New Year.

"Go West."-This injunction has come to have its application to young women as well as young men. The scarcity of eligible white girls on the frontier is so great that the men are taken Indian women for wives. Sixty marriages have recently been reported among soldiers in the Northwest to the Chinese, Germans, Portugese and South members of the red sisterhood; and yet it is Sea Islanders, who are on the way or to said the women outnumber the men in be expected during the next few months, will Massachusetts by a hundred thousand. There are a good many prizes among the miners and farmers of the Western States and Territories, which comely young women could easily manage to pick up, if they were on the ground. It would be a good idea if some person would colonize this surplus female population in localities where wives are in demand .- S. F. Call. And if a good idea for a frontier portion of the "Great West," how much better the idea, and how much greater the need for this "still farther West." But of course we must not think of the redundant lovely girls of Massachusetts; but we must search around the broad earth to get suitable fe- Indonesia are the fields from which the most male partners for the excess of about 15,000 | desirable married laborers and female immigrants males in our population.

WE REGRET to inform house-keepers at the beginning of the year, that beef cattle are becoming very scarce in these islands; and consequently that meat must advance in price very soon. There are on the island of Oahu five important herds, which comprise about nine thousand head of cattle; and among these it is estimated that there are barely two thousand good butchering animals. Now, as the butchers of the city slaughter about thirteen beeves each day, we require 4745 head of cattle for one year's supply of the city; so that Oahu can barely of the Legislature, many public works of much furnish Honolulu with a six month's ration of marketable beef. There are, it is true, some large stocks of eattle on Hawaii, Maui, Kausi and Molokai, but these islands are beginning to find at home a demand for all their own stock; so the prospect is, that we of Honolulu must pay very high prices for our beef cattle, and perhaps have to import meat by-and-by. Graziers now demand and obtain $30 to $35 a head for animals The water supply to Honolulu has been greatly dressing 400 to 500 pounds; and such is the condition of the market, that they will be warranted ere long in asking more: therefore we must expect to see mest advance in price. No one who has any means to buy affording a means of intercourse which is no-object to fifteen cents, or even twenty-five been eminently successful at several points; cents a pound for choice, tender, stall-fed sirloin or steak; but we would not like to pay such prices for meat that comes off the short feed of wild, uncultivated ranchessuch as we usually get;-therefore we hope that graziers, who are expecting, and with good reason, to get high prices for beef cattle, will look to the improvement of pasture and of stall-feeding in some cases, so advanced rates.

THE YEAR 1880

A disposition exists to look upon the past year as a dull one commercially and industrially, but when the statistics which represent the transactions of 1880 are fully before us, we believe it will be seen that, for the community as a whole, it has been a busy and prosperous year, and one in which great progress has been made throughout the Kingdom. The prosperity of 1878 and 1879, stood out in marked contrast to the comparative stagnation of preceeding years. It was accompanied by a great influx of new capital which has always the effect of making money plentiful and all branches of mercantile and maunufacturing business brisk. During 1880. some branches of industry have been slack in comparison with the rush of work there was for them during the two preceding years. But if the condition of these industries were compared with that of the time before the current of investment in sugar planting commenced to flow so freely, we should have to confess that even 1880 has been a good year. For instance: the Honelulu Iron Works, during the year just closed, have just done a fair share of work, but nothing like the amount of the two preceding years. There has been furnished a new plant for Kıpabulu Plantation, Maui, new machinery for Abuimanu, and there is nearly completed a plant for Laie, be seen from the fact that the average number of hands employed during the year, has been little over half of that employed in those years. When it is considered that the works could comfortably employ from 500 to 800 men, and make and repair all the machinery required in the islands, there is no doubt but that the shareholders after building up an enterprise, second to none of the vaunted establishments on the Pacific Coast, think them comparatively idle. So it has machinery were specially affected by the sudden physicians would not jostle each other. Perhaps so anxiety to invest in sugar plantations and sugar mills which characterized the previous period. But where this special influence has not been felt, business has been, if not expanding, certainly steady, and if there has been any falling off of the returns of individual establishments, increased competition, the inevitable sequence of prosperous times, has been the cause of it, not any falling off in the purchasing power of the community. The available statistics of production are empodied in the statistical tables compiled by Col. ALLEN, Collector of Customs, which appear in our commercial column. These confirm the opinion just expressed that the condition of things here is by no means a stationary one. Our main exports, sugar and rice, exhibit large increase over previous years. The exports for molasses, bananas, goatskins, tallow, whaleoil, whalebone and sheepskins have also increased. That we import many articles of food which we ought to produce is due to the concentration of effort on our two great industries. This, however, is an inevitable result in any country of a rapid influx of population, and experience shows that the anomaly only needs a short period to rectify itself. The only item of importance among our exports which shows a marked falling off is wool and from the increased export of sheepskins, it seems probable that we are consuming sheep as mutton, faster than they are produced. Of pulu we say nothing-like the sandal-wood, this export appears to have had its day and to be about to cease. That the gross export of the year exceeds that of the prosperous 1879 by $842,068.60, is proof positive that capital has not been imported into these islands in vain. It is estimated that of sugar alone we shall be able to export 40,000 tons during 1881. There can be no doubt that our exports would have been larger and that the profit on capital invested in plantations would have been greater, had labor been more plentiful. The demand for labor took large dimensions so suddenly that many persons have been in straits for lack of it and wages have risen beyond the figure which the sugar planter can afford to pay. This has been severely felt during the year, especially in the few calls of it. During the first half months, over 1400 Chinese, laborers arrived, and about 400 South Sea Islanders. This has somewhat relieved matters, and it seems probable that provide a supply equal to the demand. The disproportion of the sexes, already so great in Hawaii Nei, is increased by every importation of male laborers. The Chinese especially, bring scarcely any women with them-of the 1428 who arrived during 1880, only 56 were females. This subject exercises the minds of the community and has engaged the attention of the Government who have determined to confine future efforts to promote Immigration almost entirely to the introduction of married people and females. Arrangements have been made to endeavor to to bring Chinese females here. But the feeling of the community, generally, is that India and can be procured. The biennial session of our Legislature took place during the year when a great many useful measures were passed and liberal appropriations for all public works of importance and within the means of the Kingdom were made. In another column we give an abstract of the Acts passed. There has been too much disposition to decry our Legislature and to speak of its sessions as mainly occupied by windy talk. A glance at this abtract will refute any such idea better than anything we can say. Provided for or promoted by the appropriations importance have been taken in hand. A railway which is ultimately to run through the length of the Kohala, Hamakua, and Hilodistricts on Hawaii will shortly be commenced; the Government subsidizing the enterprise to the extent of $2500 per mile. A marine railway or patent slip for Honolulu is projected. Other important works have been completed during the year, some by the Government, but most by private enterprise. extended. The great aqueduct and irrigation works designed for Col. Spreckels on Maui have been completed; through all parts of this city we now see the wires of the Telephone Company food, would object to paying a good price where more useful than here; Artesian well for good appetizing meat. We would not boring has been tried in many places, and has buildings of a substantial character have been going up in all parts of the city-the new theatre built by the "Music Hall Association," the most conspicuous and extensive among them. All these signs of increased wealth and extended business corroborate the opinion that, though a quieter year than its predecessor, 1880, has been one of marked progress and improvement. His Majesty King Kalakaua has signalized the closing weeks of the seventh year of his reign by visits to the more populous portions of his Kingthat butchers can give us better meat for | dom. He has been received everywhere with an enthusiasm which marks both his personal popularity and the respect which the people both native and foreign, have to the throne as the symbol of Hawaiian Independence and Nationality. During the year the general health of the people has been good. Few countries can show so light a death rate, the opinion to the contrary which seems to have gone abroad on account of the decrease of the native Hawaiian population has arisen from lack of observing the fact that it is the birth rate which is abnormal here. The weather has been highly favorable during most of the year, and some sanitary precautions have been taken, but the fact that the fevers of last year have not been repeated in this, proves that they were but one of those epidemics which come and go in all countries. Had they been merely due to local causes they would have recurred this winter. for no one can say that with the overcrowded condition of the Chinese quarter of the town and the general absence of sanitary precautions everywhere, that Honelulu is not as open to to an invasion of fever to-day, as it was in 1879. That the city and the country generally are healthy, could have no better proof than in the fact that the Queen's Hospital, which is virtually the only one for the Kingdom has but 78 patients, amongst whom but few are seriously ill, and that this represents a fair average of the ordinary state of things there.

Note-We are obliged to omit from this issue the Ab-

The arrival of the steamship City of New York caused a lively stir at steamers' whart on Thursday afternoon. She was four days behind time; and coming from the infected small-pox port of San on this island; alterations to several new sets of Francisco, it was feared by many friends of Honomachinery, new boiler for tug Pele, general job- lulu passengers on board, that they would all have ing and repairs have been executed, but there to undergo a tedious quarantine. After a little dehas been nothing like the work of 1878-9, as may lay in the stream, and after the steamer had been boarded; when two or three prominent passengers came ashore, whilst others were detained on board. there was a redundancy of expletives circulated among the crowd on shore. "It will never do to make fish of one, and flesh of another." "They are all in the same boat, by-ginger." &c. After a time the "broadcloth prssengers," as the cabiners were styled, were allowed to come ashore, and the woolshirts of the steerage, were sent to Quarantine Bay, and marched along an improvised causeway, across the mud flats into quarantine quarters. This started a howl around town, but as these steeragers were allowed to evacuate after a short detention, it was necessarily been also in certain departments of but only to examine them in some locality apart business, which like the manufacture of from the cabin passengers, and where the examining

ITALO CAMPANINI TO WEBER. MY DEAR PRIEED WESER : To-morrow I shall once more MY DEAR PRIEND WEBER: Fo-morrow I shall once more bid you adieu for a short time, going first to Kngtand, thence to Italy, where I shall have the pleasure of seeing the Concert Grand purchased of you last Spring. This piano has given such perfect satisfaction and attracted such universal attention from the musical critics of all parts of Italy, that I wish stfli more to surprise them by showing them the Weber United which has on secount of its great sincing quality. wish still more to surprise them by showing them the Weber Upright, which has, on account of its great singing quality and easy adaptation to the voice, become the marvel of the country. It has been my constant companion here and through the West the last two seasons, and I cannot leave without taking one with me, and therefore beg you to select one for me and send it to Genoa, Italy. Your friend,

ITALO CAMPANINI.
